

NFRA

Code of Ethics for the Practice of Mold Inspection, Mold Testing, and Mold Remediation and building preservation

Objective

The Canons provided in this Code of Ethics provide standards of ethical conduct for certified mold professionals trained and certified by Millennial Health Services llc for use by such professionals as they practice their profession and exercise their primary mission which is to protect the health and well being of both their clients and the general public from microbiological and other environmental health hazards located in homes, apartments, workplaces, schools, churches, entertainment facilities, stores, and other occupied buildings of all types.

First Canon of Ethical Conduct

Certified Environmental Professionals shall practice their profession by following recognized scientific principles with the realization that the lives, health, personal well being, financial well being, and legal well being of both clients and the general public may depend upon the professional's' professional judgment, evaluation, recommendations, and provided services.

Second Canon of Ethical Conduct

Certified Environmental Professionals shall counsel affected parties factually regarding potential health risks and precautions necessary to avoid adverse health effects.

Third Canon of Ethical Conduct

Certified Environmental Professionals shall keep confidential personal business information obtained during the exercise of their professional activities, except when required by law or overriding health and public safety considerations.

Fourth Canon of Ethical Conduct

Certified Environmental Professionals shall avoid circumstances and situations wherein a compromise of professional judgment or conflict of interest may arise.

Fifth Canon of Ethical Conduct

Certified Environmental Professionals shall perform services only within areas of their competency, training and certification.

Sixth Canon of Ethical Conduct

Certified Environmental Professionals shall act responsibly to uphold the integrity of their profession and their professional training and certification.

ACCEPTED ON THIS _____ DAY OF _____, 2006.

My signature

My name printed